

News European Union Local

Migrant women amongst most vulnerable in Europe – WINGS project

By Cedric Farrugia - January 4, 2021 7:49 PM

Proactiva Open Arms / Facebook

Tista' taqra bil- Malti.

Migrant women are amongst the most vulnerable social groups within European society today said WINGS project consortium.

Dutch Social Enterprise, Netwerkpro has announced that it has officially partnered up with organisations SYNTHESIS (Cyprus), Glocal Factory (Italy), HIGGS (Greece), GEI (Spain) and Skills Zone (Malta), to develop an innovative and interactive education program which is set to empower migrant women in Europe.

The WINGS (Social and Economic Empowerment of Migrant Women) Project, is funded by the European Union and the aim is to tackle the prominent issue of migrant women being amongst the most vulnerable social groups in society today.

Migrant women will be able to benefit from tailored training programmes. The 50 hour blended training will cover aspects of everyday life. Topics will include familiarization with cultural aspect, i.e the health system, social insurance & contributions, legal framework, enrolling children to school, learning how to job hunt; as well as fundamentals such as CV writing and job interviewing.

"We have to start looking at the big picture in a more sustainable light. Social and economic integration is vital to the empowerment of migrant women" said Dutch Project Manager, Hester Wolrich.

The project is set to run for 2 years and target at least 1300 stakeholder across Europe, which will include migrant women, adult educators and organisations.

Watch: Homelessness an increasing problem among asylum seekers – Dr Maria Pisani

Watch: Homelessness an increasing problem among asylum seekers – Dr Maria Pisani

MORE ARTICLES

Laws seem optional for certain people – Buttigieg
Cedric Farrugia January 4, 2021

Tributes pour in for beloved nun and benefactor to Gozo
Coryse Borg January 5, 2021

Oxford vaccine starts being administered in UK
Cedric Farrugia January 4, 2021

TAGS migration

Share this story

Previous article

Faculty fails entire class over cheating in online test

Next article

UK judge blocks Assange extradition to US on health grounds

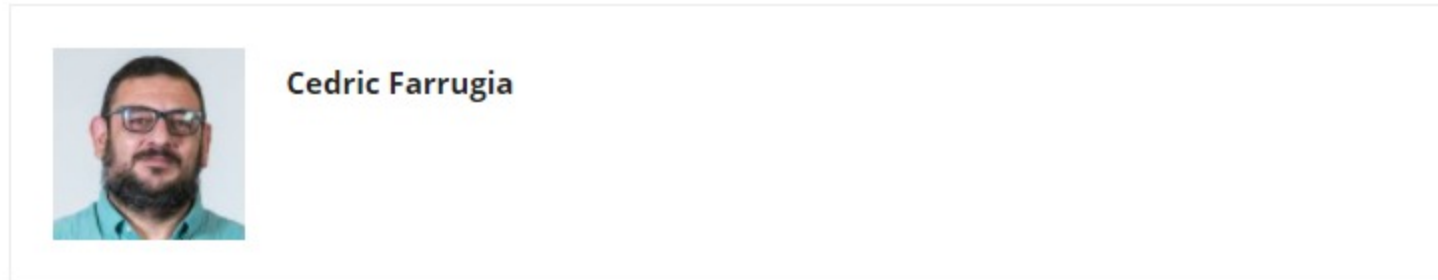

Leave your comment

0 Comments

Sort by Oldest

Add a comment...

Facebook Comments Plugin

RELATED ARTICLES MORE FROM AUTHOR

Lives of migrants and refugees have been dramatically worsened by Covid-19 – study

EU to spend over €9 billion to tackle migration

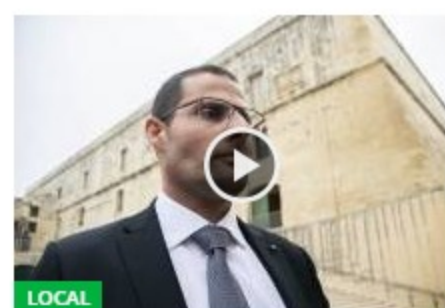

Italian police arrest 19 in crackdown on migrant smuggling ring

Calls For Solidarity And Responsibility In A System That Manages Migration

Budget 2021: Migration and the fight against illegality

Watch: Grech, Delia partly to blame for shortcomings ahead of Moneyval – Abela

Your Story

We would like to hear your story.

SUBMIT A STORY

Advertising

Advertising Rate Card.

ADVERTISE WITH US

Language

You are reading Newsbook in English.

NEWSBOOK BIL-MALTI